

2025

Board of Directors

James Hanson, President

Bruce Treadway, Vice President

Jon Reading, Secretary

Aaron Scott, Treasurer

Jeremy Dykes

Melissa Reading

Caroline Rush

The mission of the Washington County Long Term Recovery Group is to partner with faith-based organizations, volunteer and social agencies, governmental agencies, community organizations, businesses, and individual volunteers to address the spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of the individuals and families affected by disaster. The goal of the Washington County Long Term Recovery Group is to enable all residents to recover from disaster to the greatest extent possible given the available resources.

The vision of the Washington County Long Term Recovery Group is to foster a resilient community where individuals and families affected by disaster are connected with community partners and resources to recover and rebuild, supported by a network of faith-based organizations, volunteers, agencies, and businesses.

Contact group leadership by phone, (423) 791-0494, or by email, general@wcltrg.org. Visit www.wcltrg.org to learn more about the group.

About Us

The Washington County Long Term Recovery Group is a partnership of community leaders, faith institutions, and local businesses dedicated to helping residents of Washington County, Tennessee, recover from disaster. The WCLTRG coordinates long-term recovery efforts, distributes essential resources, and provides support and guidance to residents affected by catastrophic events.